

Taste The Love

© Dan Russell 2004

Life makes lots of promises
And those promises are almost always broke
When the words that you are hearing
Aren't the words you want to hear
Just look deep inside to where the weather's always clear (and)

Taste the Love in your heart
And you'll always be a part
Of the good things all around you everyday
It's the same the whole world over
So you'd better make a start
Taste the Love
Taste the Love
Taste the Love

There's a voice in your head
Saying you can have it all
But sometime somebody's gonna clip your wings
If the bridge that you are crossing,
Isn't even finished yet
There's always been a special way for you to hedge your bets

Taste the Love in your heart
And you'll always be a part
Of the good things all around you everyday
It's the same the whole world over
So you'd better make a start
Taste the Love
Taste the Love
Taste the Love

Your love can leave you in a New York minute
But you can't leave love,
Because you're always in it

Taste the Love in your heart
And you'll always be a part
Of the good things all around you everyday
It's the same the whole world over
So you'd better make a start
Taste the Love
