

Lost in Space

© 2003 Dan Russell
(Short edit)

Spoken:

Captain, are you there? This is Ensign Friday, it's so lonely up here, and so dark... Captain?

Chorus

I'm a twenty first century girl and not much makes me blue
But I am totally lost in space, when I'm away from you.
In my intergalactic ship I know just what to do
But I am totally lost in space since you and I've been through

Verse 1

I'm flying past the sun, it's getting to hot for me
Am I the only one, to star in this fantasy?
Out here on this new horizon, everything seems so clear
And my world's upside down, only because you can't be here

Chorus

I'm a twenty first century girl and not much makes me blue
But I am totally lost in space, when I'm away from you.

Verse 2

My days are such a grind; my nights are as black as coal,
I've never been the kind to easily lose control
But you were the star ship hero who made this bad girl turn good
And I'd fly back in time if there was any way I could

Chorus

I'm a twenty first century girl and not much makes me blue
But I am totally lost in space, when I'm away from you.

Middle 8

I am lost in space
I am lost in space
Is your heart receiving a message is it clear?
There's a life force out here calling... calling..

Chorus

I'm a twenty first century girl and not much makes me blue
But I am totally lost in space, when I'm away from you.
In my intergalactic ship I know just what to do
But I am totally lost in space since you and I've been through